CHRISTOPHER CROUCH: PAINTINGS

Christopher Crouch's exhibition of paintings, drawings and etchings of native flora are framed by the idea of absence and presence and coincides with the publication of his book Lenin in Perth, an account of Lenin's exile in Perth.

acrylic on Belgian linen, 120 x 90cm

BRUCE BRADFIELD: NEW WORKS

Bruce Bradfield, an award winning printmaker of Bardi and Irish descent, has spent over 20 years exploring shapes, shadows, lines and texture in found objects and the natural and built landscape. His longest project has been to document the building process surrounding the construction of the family home – a rammed earth building – where all the timber that forms the lintels, the windows, the floor, the doors and the wall cladding has been painstakingly recycled by his father, through a life time of collecting.

Bruce Bradfield Father and Son, etching, 43 x 22cm
